A note from your teacher...

It is an honor to be able to teach music to any and all students! It is one of my favorite things to share the joy of music to others. I look forward to getting to know each of my students and creating musical goals together. We will not only make beautiful music but work on theory and begin to understand why it is beautiful. My job is to not just teach you how to be a musician, but to fully support you in every way. I so look forward to meeting you!

About the teacher...

Madelynn Miller is from Chicago, Illinois and is currently a senior music therapy major at Belmont University. During her time at Belmont, she has had MT practicum placements at Rising Star Childrens' Choir, Morningside at Belmont, and is currently at TriStar Pediatrics on the Oncology unit. Musically, she has played with the Belmont Symphony Orchestra as a percussionist, at the Fisher Center, and at the Grand Ole Opry.

Madelynn began taking piano lessons when she was 4 years old and fell in love with the instrument. She continued playing and also joined the percussion section in band when she was in middle school. She stuck with both piano and percussion throughout high school and is now at Belmont with her primary instrument being classical percussion. As a music therapy major, she also has experience with guitar and voice.
