A note from Mrs. Martha-

I am passionate about teaching music because as a teacher I also learn a lot from my students, and sharing my musical knowledge fills me with joy. I consider music to be a powerful tool to develop sensitivity and creativity in human beings. I love music because it is a universal language. By teaching music we cross borders and it helps us discover our potential. My teaching is based on enjoying the learning process and excellence.

About Mrs. Martha-

Martha was born in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. She began her musical studies at the National School of Music of Honduras at the age of 11, later earning her Bachelor of Music degree from the Autonomous University of Honduras.

Throughout her career, Martha has participated in various international music festivals, performing with orchestras in El Salvador, Nicaragua, Panama, Mexico, Mississippi, and Tennessee. She has also performed at the Candlelight Concerts in Clarksville and Murfreesboro, TN.

In addition to her performance experience, Martha has taught music at numerous academies in both Honduras and Tennessee, working with students ranging from age 5 to adults.

Currently, she is a proud member of the Paducah Symphony Orchestra and is deeply committed to sharing her passion for music through teaching.
